

In addition to the patch guidelines at the end of this document (provided by NOAC 2024), here's some other things to keep in mind. There are also images of past Mowogo Lodge NOAC patches below, to help you design your own. (The images are kind of terrible, email me if you want a higher resolution image of any of them.)

1. It DOES NOT matter how good your artwork is, the idea is what matters the most. If a design is chosen it will be sent to a patch company to finalize to get a complete design.
2. Try and incorporate the Mowogo Lodge bear into your patch, every single NOAC patch has the bear in some capacity.
3. Stay away from the commercial patches, it's incredibly hard to get approval, especially with the timeline that we need to be on.
4. Give us everything (be as creative as you can), we need all of your ideas and anything you might have to offer. Feel free to turn in anything no matter how unserious it might be.

2024 NOAC Contingent Patch Guidelines

The following guidelines for contingent patches and memorabilia have been developed in conjunction with the University of Colorado Boulder for National Order of the Arrow Conference event-specific merchandise. Custom patch orders must be placed through an official BSA licensee at www.licensingbsa.org or through the National Supply Group Specialty Products team at NDCspecialty.Products@scouting.org.

GUIDELINES FOR USE

- A third-party letter of permission is not required from the University of Colorado if the words “CU BOULDER” or “THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER” are used only to identify the location of the NOAC event.
- There is no comma in “UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER”.
- Any other use of the University of Colorado trademarks, including but not limited to the interlocking CU logo, “Ralphie” the buffalo or any athletic branding is not permitted.
- If a year is to be included to identify the NOAC event, it should clearly be associated with NOAC and separated from the words “CU BOULDER” or “THE UNIVERSITY OF COLORADO BOULDER”.
- Lodge insignia must fit the exact size and shape of right pocket flap per the BSA Guide To Awards and Insignia.
- Any other third-party trademark used on a patch design must be accompanied by a letter of permission from that intellectual property owner granting such use.
